THE 1936 MIRROR

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
OF BATES COLLEGE
LEWISTON MAINE

DEDICATION

To pay small tribute for courtesy, generosity, and good fellowship, we, the members of the Class of 1936, dedicate this Mirror to one who exemplifies the Bates spirit that we admire; our friend and coach, David B. Morey.

FOREWORD

If the contents of these pages will, in years to come, recall to you the memories of pleasant college days, close friendships, the beauty of the campus, and all that goes into making Bates your Alma Mater in heart as well as in name, this Mirror will have achieved its purpose.

CLASSES

Eager, undaunted Freshmen one September. Mental capabilities unscratched. Social accomplishments in the first week—collecting signatures at the I. M. U. R. party, making wise and appropriate remarks to Prexy at Freshman Reception, then, despite aching feet, trying to keep up with the best of them on Stanton Ride.

Down to the actual tasks, and with them serious purpose in extra-curricular work. Sports highlights in 1937's outfit featured footballers Edward Gillis, Bernard Marcus, Merle and Paul McClusky; and puck-chasers Wesley Dinsmore and Robert Haskell. Charles Gore and Anton Kishon promised to become two of the best ever in track activities.

Athletes broke some records, our aspiring actors and actresses broke another when seventy-five tried out for Heelers. Debating was glad to receive noteworthy contributions from our class in the persons of Harriett Durkee, Margaret McKusick, William Metz, and Ernest Robinson.

All-college elections, with our result: Charles Markell, President; Margaret Melcher, Vice-President; Ruth Merrill, Secretary; Ernest Robinson, Treasurer.

Scholastic honors to Muriel Tomlinson, smartest woman, and William Metz, smartest man of the class.

Personal distinction of this sort for some, but distinction for the class as a whole in setting the precedent for the Freshman Sport Dance. Too soon came June.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

September again. Bates again. Old friends returning; all definitely by now a part of Bates. Lessons and football started simultaneously. Marcus and Merle McClusky once more on Garcelon Field, supplemented this year by varsity recruits: Benjamin Carlin, Wesley Dinsmore, Richard Loomis, Charles Markell, Frederick Martin, and Ernest Robinson. Gore and Kishon in the track sportlight more than ever. With Gore, Arthur Danielson, Bernard Marcus, and Robert Rowe composed the relay team which took first places in all races on the Interclass meet program. This was only the second time in Bates history that one class had scored such a victory.

New members also in forensic activities, when Albion Beverage, Arnold Kenseth, and Donald Welch were elected to the Debating Council. William Earles and Elizabeth Stevens setting the pace for our dramatic aspirants by fine work in the one-act plays.

Election results made Robert Harper, President; Margaret Melcher, Vice-President; Margaret McKusick, Secretary; and Ernest Robinson, Treasurer.

Muriel Tomlinson again attained highest scholastic honors for women; George Scouffas took the distinction for the men.

Social successes of which we were justly proud: Sophomore Hop and Sophomore Girls' Dance.

Finals, prelude to the end of another year. Retrospect revealed accomplishments, which made us happy in the realization that we had been able to live up to the high standards we had set for ourselves.

JUNIOR YEAR

"The mark of distinction"—posed and polished, confidence substituted for cockiness, enthusiastic as ever, but with an outward calm dignity, as we returned to Bates for our third year. Football letters for Richard Loomis, Fred Martin, Merle McClusky, and in addition, All-Maine honors for half-back Marcus.

Supremacy continued in track, in which Eugene Connell, Arthur Danielson, and Anton Kishon had their varsity letters after the indoor season. Kishon's consistently spectacular achievements were climaxed by his winning the thirty-five pound hammer throw in the I. C. 4–A. With this accomplishment, increased prophesying as to Tony's Olympic chances.

Varsity letters for the athletes, but Delta Sigma Rho keys for the debaters: Harriett Durkee, Lawrence Floyd, Margaret McKusick, William Metz, Ernest Robinson, and Donald Welch.

Dramatists also on the advance: William Earles, Margaret Melcher, Elizabeth Stevens, and Millicent Thorp admitted to 4–A membership, with Miss Thorp being made President.

Senior elections proved democracy in our class—an entirely new set of officers: William Metz, new President; Kathryn Thomas, Vice-President; Elizabeth Stevens, Secretary; and Richard Loomis, Treasurer.

Socially, the success of Junior Cabaret augured well for the coming Ivy Hop.

What? Three years already? Yes, it's true, but hard to realize. A few more months and Seniors. Now happy in knowing that we have one more year at our Alma Mater, yet sad that it is our last. Anticipating, shall we attain our goal by becoming worthy of the label "Pink of Perfection?"

The Sophomore Class

Harms, Keane, Jack, Catlin

September, 1935—Few more than two hundred uncertain if not confused students converge on the campus, rush through Freshman Week activities—a unit for the first time—emerge still more bewildered, sure only that they are at last college Freshmen.

Since then, the collegiate whirl has spun us so fast that the most tenable remainder is latent memory images. Featuring them, '38's contributions: an undefeated Bobkitten litter; a fair cross country team; a tie and a victory in two hockey games; an interclass basketball league winner; a powerful undefeated Freshman track team; representation on varsity baseball and tennis teams. Among the future varsity stars: Cooke, Preston, Eaton, Frost, McDonough, Howard, Luukko, Keck, Hutchinson, Healey, Reed, Casterline.

'38 prominence, too, on other horizons: varsity debating squad, Heelers, 4-A, musical organizations, clubs, publications; while some few, assuming their burden as "grinds," balanced the scholastic side of the academic ledger.

Even 'mid such a diversity of interests, time was found to elect our first class officers: Byron Catlin, Grace Jack, Charles Harms, and Alberta Keane, with Jack Kenney as Student Council representative. Time also to dread, cram for, pray for, and (for most) pass mid-years. Then Carnival.

A new semester—the impressive all-college elections, with Harms and Catlin exchanging class positions while Grace Jack and Eleanore Dearden were elected to Student Government, Edward Howard and John Leard to Student Council. Freshman Sport Dance the social feature of our first spring on the Bates campus, then separation for the summer from the many friends we had made in one too short year.

September, 1935—Sophomores now, sedate, sophisticated, scorning of Freshmen, more a unity than were the cosmopolites of a year ago. More scenes: Thirty-eighters playing prominent parts in the now-famous varsity football campaign—Cooke, Preston, Eaton, Frost, Morin, Aldrich, letter-men.

The same well-rounded interests and contributions: forensic stars making debuts in intercollegiate circles—Paul Stewart, Grace Jack, Elizabeth Kadjperooni, Ellen Craft, Howard Becker. Our actors and actresses—Priscilla Jones, Marion Welsch, John Ciardi, Robert Crocker, Jonathan Bartlett, and John Smith—peering from behind footlights in a variety of roles. Keck and Howard featured in musical solos. Leard as first Sophomore editor of the Student; Fishman news editor.

Winter—a praiseworthy Carnival, then indoor athletics. Cooke, Luukko, Howard, and Keck varsity track team mainstays. Less success in interclass basketball.

Elections, and slight changes: Gordon Williams new Treasurer; Grace Jack Vice-President of Student Government; Luukko, Keck, Leard to the Council.

Neptune's Gardened, Dinsmore-directed Soph Hop, the reappearance of our tennis, baseball, and outdoor track men, and ON to Junior Year!

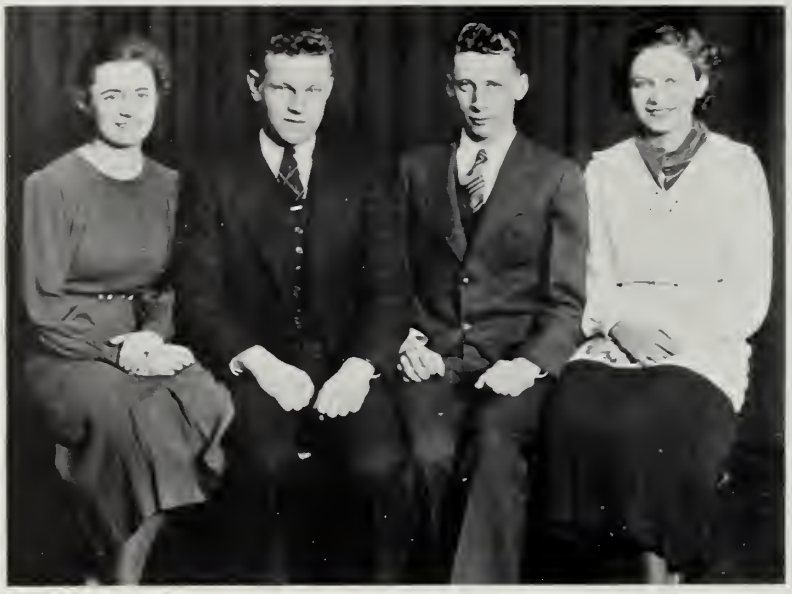
The Freshman Class



Hewes, Clough, Bridges, Manter

Cosmopolitan group with divergence from Lewiston to Oklahoma and even to the Orient enlisted humbly as members of the class of '39 last September—194 of them.

In rapid succession, lectures, meetings, parties, and I. M. U. R. whirled us through Freshman Week—a unit, marked by bib-wearing co-eds and ex-high and prep schoolers labelled as College Freshmen by jaunty skullcaps. Later, skullcaps gave way to football helmets, suit coats to cross country jersies.

Scrappy, but light, the Bobkittens were taken by M. C. I. and Bridgton. Canavan, Crosby, Reid, the Briggs trio, Parker, Clough, McCluskey, Vaka, and Cushman, backbone of the team, showed varsity potentiality. More successful harriers among us: undefeated, with an unpassed leader, who broke the Freshman course record, in Dana Wallace. Bridges, Lythcott, DuWors always in the van helping in victories over Lisbon Falls, Bridgton, and other teams.

First class elections made Fred Clough President, Luella Manter Vice-President, Don Bridges Treasurer, and Marjorie Hewes Secretary. Cushman to the Council.

Then with a bang the dreaded mid-years! A perfect Maine winter—skiing, skating, tobogganing—helped the mid-semester Carnival, in which Tom Reiner was our class contribution as a member of the college skiing team.

Second semester. Edwin Edwards, Irving Friedman, and Hoosag Kadjperooni in "Much Ado About Nothing." Versatile Marjorie Hewes featured in Granite after earlier though less important successes.

Class elections, with Fred Clough President, Dorothy Harms Vice-President, Donald Bridges Treasurer, Marjorie Hewes Secretary. Kimnach and Clough to the Student Council. Marjorie Hewes and Dorothy Weeks for Student Government.

Freshmen on top in interclass basketball, of which Canavan, Wilder, Woodbury, Crosby, Clough, Malone, Webster, and Jobrack were standouts. Indoor track also successful with Wallace establishing himself as one of the best. Dana set a new mile record of 4 minutes $35\frac{3}{5}$ seconds, while Webster and Williamson both broke the high jump record by soaring over a 5 feet $10\frac{1}{2}$ inch height. Lythcott only a few watch-ticks short of breaking the 300-yard record.

Besides actors, actresses, athletes, we had speakers and debaters of exceptional promise. Prize debates gave Eugene Foster best men's speaker award, with the team of Foster, Curtis, and Farnum winning the team prize. Marita Dick and Barbara Buker composed the winning team in the girls' contest, and Marjorie Hewes was declared best speaker. Irving Friedman won the men's public speaking competition, but Miss Hewes repeated her victory in the women's division. Estelva Rollins was awarded the Greek Prize.

Spring [Maine's greatest flood] outdoor sports. Yearling gifts to the varsity baseball team: Malone and Johnson. Another good track outfit, which opened the season with an auspicious victory over Rumford, 68–58.

One year passed, and on to Sophomores with the thought and motto: "The best is yet to be."

Student Council

Leard, Harper

The Student Council, the men's undergraduate governing body, took on a decidedly different aspect during the years 1935–36, working progressively for the betterment of student life at Bates and relegating its disciplinary powers to minor importance, believing in the adage that, "That government is best which governs the least."

From the first the Council adopted the "open-meeting plan" by which any student might attend a bi-weekly meeting of the Council and suggest any problems for its consideration.

The Council, in co-operation with the administration, was active in seeking to establish an adequate publicity bureau for the college and to introduce basketball as an intercollegiate sport. Golf facilities were provided for through the combined efforts of the Council and the Athletic Association.

The long-desired constitutional amendments were passed by the men's assembly in May, 1935, soon after the Council assumed office. They ushered in many improvements in the method of electing members to the Council.

For the first time in several years Freshman Rules, supervised and enforced by the Council, were put into effect. Also, entering into an entirely new field, the Council purchased one hundred and thirty caps and gowns, which are conveniently and economically available to the students. The revenue from the gowns will be used for campus improvements.

In the general assembly the plan of having the Mirror become a college publication was adopted. The assembly also approved the selection of a standard college ring and pin under the supervision of the Council.

These activities were all carried out in addition to the so-called routine Council duties and have injected quite a new character into student government at Bates. The Council for 1936–37 has pledged itself to follow a similar policy. Its members are: Fred Martin, '37, President; Robert Harper, '37, Vice-President; John Leard, '38, Secretary-Treasurer; Bernard Marcus, '37; Nicholas Pellicani, '37; Winston Keck, '38; William Luukko, '38; Fred Clough, '39; and Robert Kimnack, '39.

The members of the retired Council are: Robert Saunders, '36, President; Edmund Muskie, '36, Vice-President; Fred Martin, Secretary-Treasurer; Morris Dobrosky, '36; David Whitehouse, '36; Robert Harper, '37; William Metz, '37; Edward Howard, '38; John Leard, '38; Harold Cushman, '39.

The Women's Student Government Association, in order to accomplish its aims of offering to each girl the greatest possibilities of college life, of developing individual responsibility, and of promoting harmonious co-operation between students and faculty, has carried on a varied program of activities this year.

Freshman Stunt Night, with dormitory skits, was organized successfully and did much to create a feeling of friendliness. The annual banquet was held on December 14 and the speaker, Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, was presented to the student body in the Chapel. Student Government, in conjunction with the Student Council, initiated a new feature into the social calendar, a co-ed dinner in December. Teas were held several Sunday afternoons in Rand Hall and a co-ed tea was a much appreciated innovation. The Valentine's Tea Dance was held appropriately on February 14. Members of the board enjoyed conferences during the year at Beaver College, Pennsylvania, and at the University of Maine. Edith Milliken, '36, served as President; Ruth Springer, '37, as Vice-President; and Ruth Coan, '36, as Secretary-Treasurer. Other members of the board were: Eleanor Glover, '36; Priscilla Heath, '36; Lenore Murphy, '36; Dorothy Staples, '36; Adele Testa, '36; Electa Corson, '37; Doris Howes, '37; Ruth Robinson, '37; Millicent Thorp, '37, Carol Wade, '37; Jeannette Walker, '37; Eleanore Deardon, '38; and Grace Jack, '38.

The officers for 1936–37 are: Carol Wade, '37, President; Grace Jack, '38, Vice-President; Millicent Thorp, '37, Secretary-Treasurer; Electa Corson, '37; Augusta Ginther,'37; Phyllis Sanders, '37; Elizabeth Stevens, '37; Jeannette Walker, '37; Ruth Bowditch, '38; Eleanore Deardon, '38; Evelyn Jones, '38; Mary McKinney, '38; Ruth Montgomery, '38; Marion Welsch, '38; Marjorie Hewes, '39; and Dorothy Weeks, '39.

SMOKER

Oft times at night I light my pipe,
And watch the glowing grates;
The shadows fall while I recall
Each dream of dear old Bates;
Each fair co-ed, each lesson read,
Each comrade's friendliness.
Each victory comes back to me,
Each dream brings happiness.

College Band

The college band performed yeoman service this year. It played at all home football games, at those games in the state series which were played away, and at rallies. The group also played at track meets. It accompanied cheering students to the railroad station in the wee hours of the morning to welcome returning Bates teams. Arthur Axelrod, '36, is to be complimented on his excellent leadership of the organization, and the clever antics of drum-major William Hamilton, '37, also deserve mention.

The Bobcats, of course, have the widest appeal of any of the campus musical groups. They play at the regular Saturday night dances and at occasional special affairs. Whether they give us sweet slow numbers, the new swing tunes, or hot Harlem rhythm, the boys always rise capably to the occasion. Under the leadership of Art Axelrod, '36, they have enjoyed a most successful year. Incidentally, Don Partridge, '38, should be congratulated on his smooth arrangements.

Mac-farlane Club

The Macfarlane Club is an organization for music lovers who like a little fun too. The carefully-planned programs have been especially amusing and profitable this year. The highlight of the season was the club's presentation of a rollicking parody on "Macbeth". The club has performed a genuine service in its attempt to develop an appreciation of real good music on the campus. The new officers are: president, Edward Howard, '38; vice-president, Ruth Robinson, '37; secretary, Ruth Bowditch, '38; treasurer, Norman Kemp, '37.

The College Choir is one of the busiest of the campus musical organizations. The group sings anthems twice a week in the regular chapel service, and at every service leads the students in the singing of the daily hymn. The choir sings at Vesper services, and at Thanskgiving, Christmas, and Easter, offers music that is appropriate to these holidays. Professor Crafts is to be congratulated on his bringing to the campus, through the medium of the choir, the best of the world's sacred music.

The Orphic Society is the Bates contribution to the realm of symphonic music. The group plays the work of many of the master composers. It had a conspicuous part in the annual Pop Concert and in the Spring Concert. It also gave a concert at Norway. We are indebted to the group for bringing to the campus the best of the world's instrumental music.

THE ALMA MATER

Here's to Bates, our Alma Mater dear,
Proudest and fairest of her peers.
We pledge to her our loyalty,
Our faith, and our honor through the years.
Long may her praises resound.
Long may her sons exalt her name.
May her glory shine while time endures.
Here's to our Alma Mater's fame.

We have seen her battles bravely fought,
Prowess and pluck upon the field.
We have known defeat and victory;
Bates men were never known to yield.
Here's to the Garnet—Hurrah!
Here's to the pluck that shall not fail,
To our Bates and all she means to us,
Here's to our Alma Mater—Hail!

"The play's the thing." Under the able leadership of Mary Abromson, the 4–A Players have had a very successful year. Four presentations were given: the one-act plays and Varsity production in the fall; the Shakespeare and final three-act play in the spring. This year, due to the excellent work of Clark Noyes, the club has been able to give dramas which have demanded more difficult settings. Meetings with varied programs have been held twice a month: Heelers have entertained with one-act plays; speakers who have had experience in professional companies have addressed the group; and under the guidance of Professor Robinson the club has had practice in make-up. The aim of the 4–A Players this year has been to give all of the Heelers and 4–A members an opportunity to do something in the field of the drama. With this in mind the club has given more attention to play try-outs, and has offered credit for prompting, secretarial work, and other projects not perhaps definitely connected with acting, but necessary to all dramatic productions.

The Heelers Club, organized in 1929 by Professor Grosvenor Robinson, gives everyone the chance to prove his dramatic ability and to enter the ranks of the 4–A Players. The members are chosen by Professor Robinson and the officers of the 4–A in annual tryouts. Members are given the opportunity to study the art of make-up and play production as well as giving their own interpretation of many current plays. These plays, given before members of 4–A, are directed and produced by members of Heelers themselves. Any student given a part in the Varsity Play automatically becomes a member of Heelers while no person can obtain a 4–A membership without first being a Heeler. A Heeler is promoted to 4–A when he has been in a sufficient number of plays. The club is under the guidance of the vice-president of 4–A. Louise Geer, '36, served in that capacity during the past year and was succeeded by Margaret Melcher, '37.

"CANDIDA" BY GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

CAST:	Rev. James Mavor Morell	William G. Earles, '38
	Candida, his wife	Priscilla A. Jones, '38
	Eugene Marchbanks	George Doyle, '38
	Burgess, Candida's father	John E. Harvey, '37
	Proserpine Garnett	Louise Geer, '36
	Lexy Mill, curate	John J. Smith, '38

DIRECTOR: Owen Dodson, '36.

Varsity Play

Who is it a great man has to thank for his greatness—himself? George Bernard Shaw doesn't think so; and the 4-A Players on December 12 and 13 when they presented "Candida" showed to an interested audience that it's the woman who makes the thankless husband what he is. The setting in the Morell living room was tastily and colorfully effective; and George Bernard Shaw's wit combined with the excellent acting of the group gave the audience an entertaining evening.

Shakespearean Play

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING

CAST:	Don Pedro, Prince of Arragon	William Hamilton, '37
	Don John, his bastard brother	Irving Friedman, '39
	Claudio, a young lord of Florence	Edwin Edwards, '39
	Benedick, a young lord of Padua	Robert Crocker, '38
	Leonato, governor of Messina	Jonathan Bartlett, '38
	Antonio, his brother	Everett Kennedy, '37
	Balthasas, attendant on Don Pedro	James Carter, '36
	Conrad, follower of Don John	Earl Dias, '37

	Third	Wilford Symons, '38
	Musicians	Fred Kelley, '39; John Nash, '39

Once again the stage of The Little Theater resounded with the rhythm of blank verse, and the rollicking fun of a Shakespearean comedy when on March 5 and 6 "Much Ado About Nothing" was presented by the 4A Players. Professor Robinson was in charge of the production, assisted by Mary Abromson, '36. To Miss Abromson for her sparklingly sarcastic interpretations of Beatrice were due in a large measure, the life and zest of the play. Although the work in such a production is stupendous, both audience and players feel it is well worth while.

Spring Play

"GRANITE" BY CLEMENCE DANE

CAST:	Jordan Morris	Jonathan Bartlett, '38
	Judith, his wife	Mary Abromson, '36
	Prosper, his half brother	Robert Crocker, '38
	Penny Holt, a maid-servant	Marjorie Hewes, '39
	A Clergyman	John Smith, '38
	A Nameless Man	Owen Dodson, '36

DIRECTOR: Millicent Thorp, '37

Once more the 4A Players turned to the bleak and atmospheric when in May they presented Clemence Dane's "Granite." Millicent Thorp, '37, directed the production. The play afforded several excellent character parts, the one of the Nameless Man particularly noteworthy as portrayed by Owen Dodson, '36. Other members of the cast also turned in exceptionally fine performances.

Setting for Dane's "Granite." Shakespeare's "Much Ado"

Three One-Act Plays

On November 5 and 7 the annual one-act play production was given. The curtain went up first on a comedy, Percival Wilde's "Lost Elevator." The cast included: Sumner Libbey, '36; Earl Dias, '37; William Hamilton, '37; Irving Friedman, '39; Elliot Phipps, '39; Hoosag Kadjperooni, '39; Marion Welsch, '38; Virginia Harriman, '38; Kathleen Torsey, '36; Muriel Underwood, '36; Elizabeth Sawyer, '38. Mary Abromson, '36, directed the group.

The second play, "Allison's Lad", by Beulah M. Dix was more serious in tone and more colorful. Owen Dodson, '36, directed the play. The cast included: William Earles, '37; Lewis Revey, '36; John Ciardi, '38; Everett Kennedy, '37; Edwin Edwards, '39; Jonathan Bartlett, '38.

The setting of the final play "Gloria Mundi" by Patricia Brown was an insane asylum. The play directed by Louise Geer, '36, was thematic, showing that not only the people in asylums are insane, but in ways we are all demented. The cast included: Margaret Melcher, '37; Robert Crocker, '38; Marjorie Hewes, '39; Millicent Thorp, '37; John Smith, '38; Priscilla Heath, '36.

The Eastern Intercollegiate League did not prove to be much of a success this year because of lack of co-operation among the members. Contacts between teams were hard to make and in several instances scheduled debates were dropped with short notice, leaving Bates to find new opponents for the occasion. Debates were usually non-decisional this year, but in order to stimulate interest in Bates' meetings with Bowdoin and Wesleyan, decisions were rendered. Bates was successful in overcoming both these opponents and may thus lay claim to position as uncrowned champion of the League since Wesleyan was winner last year and Bowdoin was the school who defeated Bates. The other League members whose teams were met were Mount Holyoke, Lafayette, and Colgate.

The debaters participating in the League this year were F. Carleton Mabee, '36; Isabella Fleming, '36; William Greenwood, '36; Irving Isaacson, '36; Edmund Muskie, '36; and Priscilla Heath, '36.

At the League Conference held at Amherst on May 8 and 9, the Bates representative set forth the suggestion that the League hold one central tournament during the year. Such a plan would cut down traveling expenses, do away with poor contacts, and decide the question of decisional or non-decisional debates. At the time of the writing of this article it was not known what the decision of the Conference was.

Men Debaters

NON-LEAGUE DEBATES

Besides the League Debates the men's varsity squad of eight men participated in twenty-five other intercollegiate contests held with such schools as Maine, Colby, University of Vermont, Dartmouth, Boston University, Tufts, Rutgers, American International, Middlebury, Syracuse, New York University, Washington and Jefferson, University of New Hampshire, Boston College, Cambridge Lyceum, University of Hawaii (mixed), Canadian Universities, Brooklyn College, General Electric Training School, and Holy Cross. Few of these were decision debates, but Bates won all those that were. Many of them were extension affairs held at Concord, N. H., Manchester, N. H., Rockland High School, Bridgton Academy, and Leavitt Institute. The debates with Maine, Colby, Syracuse, and Boston College were broadcast over the radio.

Bates' reputation for international contests continued with the entertaining of a team from Dalhousie University and University of New Brunswick of Canada early in the Fall, and an Hawaiian team early in the Spring. The Hawaiian debate was probably the most interesting one of the year, taking the nature of a discussion of Hawaii's desire to become a state, and the Hawaiian team being composed of an Anglo-Saxon-Hawaiian, a Japanese-Hawaiian, and a Chinese-Hawaiian. Colored movies and a lecture completed their offering.

Besides the frequent overnight or two-day debating trips made to Dartmouth, Middlebury, Boston, etc., this year, two other more extensive tours were undertaken. The first took place during the week of November 18 when Carleton Mabee, '36, and William Greenwood, '36, traveled to Hamilton, N. Y., to meet Colgate for the first league contest, also meeting Syracuse and General Electric, and the second during the week of March 16 when Edmund Muskie, '36, and Irving Isaacson, '36, visited Cambridge Forum, Brooklyn College, N. Y. U., Rutgers, finally ending up at Lafayette for a regular league contest.

JUNIOR VARSITY AND FRESHMAN DEBATES

The Junior Varsity debaters carried on Exhibition debates this year before Traipe Academy, Kittery, N. H., and Farmington Normal, Farmington, Me., both to gain experience for themselves and to aid the local high schools. Those participating were Donald Welch, '37; Ellen Crafts, '38; Wesley Nelson, '38; Elizabeth Kadjperooni, '38; Everett Kennedy, '37; James Foster, '38; Edward Fishman, '38; and John Smith, '38.

FRESHMAN DEBATES

A large numbers of promising Freshman debaters passed the preliminary trials in the Fall to engage in a busy schedule for the year. Debates were held on campus with Farmington Normal, Brewer High, Deering High, Cony High, and Rumford High. Trips were also made to Portland and Boston, where the Tufts Freshmen and Boston University Freshmen were met, respectively, and to Bath, Me., where an exhibition debate was held before Morse High. For their participation in these last debates, the following became Junior Varsity members: Donald Curtis, Marita Dick, Marjorie Hewes, Hoosag Kadjperooni, Roland Martone, and Caroline Pulsiver.

Elizabeth Kadjperooni, Ellen Crafts, Margaret McKusick, Grace Jack, Harriett Durkee
Ruth Rowe, Isabella Fleming, Priscilla Heath

Women Debaters

The women had a successful season with eight Varsity debaters and four Junior Varsity members. The season started with a debate between Bates and Middlebury, October 31, on the Socialized Medicine question, Margaret McKusick, Grace Jack and Harriett Durkee upholding the Negative for Bates. On January 14, Priscilla Heath and Isabella Fleming started on a short trip through southern New England, debating the Supreme Court with Rhode Island State College, Mount Holyoke and Pembroke. They returned January 18, having debated each day of their absence. Forensic meets were resumed after Mid-years with two debates, February 20 and 21: one with the University of New Hampshire; Margaret McKusick, Ellen Crafts and Elizabeth Kadjperooni upholding the same side and question. The last Varsity debate was held April 1 with Upsala College from East Orange, N. J., when Ruth Rowe, Grace Jack and Harriett Durkee upheld the Negative in a discussion of whether Roosevelt should be re-elected in 1936. Priscilla Heath was the woman member of the mixed team which met the University of Hawaii debaters March 20 on the question of whether Hawaii should become a state. The Junior Varsity has met Farmington Normal School. A mixed team of which Marjorie Hewes was the woman member met Tufts College in Westbrook College in Portland to discuss Co-education.

Debating Council

The Bates Debating Council was organized about 1921. It has only a few meetings during the year, but these are very important since the Council elects Managers for the men and women and determines the debating policy of Bates in relation to the League. The Council also promotes debating in the secondary schools of Maine and New Hampshire by sponsoring a tournament each spring.

Delta Sigma Rho

H. L. Ewbank . . . . . President
Mrs. Frank S. Smith . . . . . Secretary
Gilbert L. Hall . . . . . Treasurer

Delta Sigma Rho is the National Honorary Forensic Society. Completion of the Sophomore year and participation in not less than two intercollegiate debates are the minimum requirements for admission. Since Delta Sigma Rho is the Phi Beta Kappa of Debating, election is purely honorary.

Election to this Society, in which Bates holds the only chapter in Maine, has been awarded this year to the following: David C. Whitehouse, '36; Lawrence C. Floyd, '37; William D. Metz, '37; Ernest E. Robinson, '37; Donald A. Welch, '37; Margaret R. McKusick, '37; Harriett P. Durkee, '37.

CLASS PRIZE DEBATES

Aside from actual participation through the Squad there is an opportunity for other debating enthusiasts in the two lower classes to demonstrate their abilities in the Freshman and Sophomore prize debates held each year under the supervision of the Debating Council. In these the men and women compete for team and individual cash awards. In the Sophomore Debate James Foster, Wesley Nelson, and Carl Mazzarela, defenders of professionalism in college athletics, defeated Eleanor Purkis, Howard Becker, and Courtney Burnap. James Foster was awarded the prize as best speaker.

There were two debates held for the Freshmen, one for the women and one for the men. In the women's debate the negative team composed of Barbara Buker and Marita Dick defeated Marjorie Hewes and Caroline Pulsifer of the affirmative, although Miss Hewes was chosen as best speaker. The subject was the adoption of the Bennington College System. For the men Eugene Foster and Donald Curtis of the affirmative proved to the audience that extra-curricular activities are over-emphasized at Bates by defeating Roland Martone and Sherwood Ricker who took the opposite stand. Foster was awarded the best speaker prize.

INTERSCHOLASTIC DEBATING LEAGUES

This year in the New Hampshire and Maine Interscholastic Leagues directed by Bates, about three hundred students were busily preparing debates on the popular question of Socialized Medicine.

In the preliminaries held on March 20, about fifty schools participated in the Maine League and fifteen in the New Hampshire division.

The finals of the New Hampshire League were held on campus on April 17. The schools which on the basis of two wins in the earlier rounds were able to participate in the finals, were Hopkinton, Groveton, New Boston, Lancaster, and Laconia. Laconia was awarded the championship with two 3–0 decisions, while New Boston took second place honors. The race for individual tournament honors resulted in a triple tie between Mary Gozonsky, Natalie Chandler, and Herman Skofield. On that basis both were awarded scholarships annually offered to the best speaker of the tournament.

The following week-end twelve schools were on campus for the semi-finals and finals of the Maine League. Out of this group Portland High, Leavitt Institute, and Orono High qualified for the Saturday morning finals with Leavitt winning the final decision to gain possession of the Maine State Championship Cup. Portland High was winner of the second place trophy cup. Dwight Bartell of Leavitt was awarded the scholarship for best speaker.

Mirror Staff

The Mirror was changed this year from a Senior Class yearbook to an all-college annual by a vote of the Student Assembly. The editor and business manager are no longer elected by the Junior Class but are appointed by the Publishing Association acting upon the recommendations of the preceding editor and business manager. Editor-in-chief Robert Saunders, with the efficient work of business manager David Whitehouse, and the fine efforts of an able corps of assistants, has attempted an up-to-date yet conservative book, aimed to meet the tastes of all, and to provide a lasting record of a small part of Bates history.

The staff: Editor-in-chief, Robert E. Saunders; business manager, David C. Whitehouse; associate editors, Lenore G. Murphy, Robert S. Fish; associate business manager, E. Howard Buzzell; art editor, Dorothy M. Hoyt; personal editors, Priscilla Heath, Owen V. Dodson; faculty editor, Damon M. Stetson; society editor, Dorothy H. Staples; debating editor, Courtney N. In accordance with a mid-administration profession to make the Student more newsworthy, Editor Lennartson and his staff gradually increased the "feature" material, retained the widely-read Pepys column, presented an anti-suicide-football-schedule protest, and continued to have all phases of campus activity represented in their columns during a year's tenure of the editing work of the undergraduate weekly newspaper.

In March Lennartson's recommendation of a successor was disregarded by the Publishing Association and John Leard, '38, was elected Editor. Urban Avery, Jr., '37, was reappointed Business Manager. The 1936–37 staff includes, in addition to the above: John Garrity, '37, Managing Editor; Edward Fishman, '38, News Editor; Bernard Marcus, '37, Sports Editor; Seranush Jaffarian, '37, Women's Editor; and Nicholas Pellicani, '37, Advertising Manager.

The Garnet

In 1922 the Student Supplement became the Garnet, a small magazine designed to print the best literature written by Bates students. One of the first contributors to the publication was Gladys Hasty Carroll, author of the best seller "As the Earth Turns". Miss Carroll is the first student to achieve national literary prominence.

In November, 1934, the Garnet published poetic prose by Glidden Parker, and poems by four students whose work was recently commented upon very favorably by Louis Untermeyer.

During the last year, the college literary magazine has succeeded in stimulating the expression of campus ideas and ideals. Outstanding contributors in the graduating class are Owen Dodson, who edited the publication; Priscilla Heath, William Swallow, Robert Johnson, Nils Lennartson, and Roger Fredland.

Jack Kenney, '38, and Edward Fishman, '38, were business managers. Other outstanding contributors were Arnold Kenseth, '37, the succeeding editor, and Denham Sutcliffe, '37.

Publishing Association

The Bates College Publishing Association was organized about 1925 for the purpose of considering and guiding, as an impartial body, the general policies of the Student and the Garnet. The financial control of these publications is also in the hands of the Association.

This year, with the authorization of the Publishing Association, the Garnet fund was made independent of the Student fund; and the Business Manager of the Student was made elective by the Publishing Association instead of being appointed by the Editor as formerly.

SONG OF THE RETURNING

When days were gold, and autumn leaves were falling
Within your walls, dear Bates, we came to stay,
Four glad years passed; and life and spring were calling,
And it was time for us to go away.

But friendships firm, and clearer, broader vision—
These were your gifts which never will depart;
Your spirit strengthens us for each decision,
For oh, we hear your benediction in our heart.

Upon your beauty once again we're gazing,
Though far away throughout the year we roam,
O fairest mother, dear past all appraising,
We are your children, and we have come home.

Our little triumphs, short of your deserving,
Our little dreams, that never quite came true,
Our love that was, and shall be still, unswerving—
Beloved Bates, our Bates, we bring them all to you.

Emphasis this year has been placed chiefly on campus activities. Through careful planning of the cabinet Freshman Week, the Stanton Ride, and the well-known "Y" handbook played a definite part in the orientation of the Class of '39. Chase Hall dances continued successfully under Tim Gammon; while Bill Metz outlined a series of monthly lectures that brought to the campus speakers and thinkers of such universal fame as: Henry Weiman, University of Chicago school of religion; Dick Harlow, head coach of football at Harvard; and Louis Untermeyer, world-recognized American poet and literary critic. As a college unit the "Y" emphatically stands behind reasonable student movements for World Peace. Community and missionary service likewise receive support where credit is due.

William Metz, '37, heads the joint "Y. M." and "Y. W." cabinets for next year with Ruth Jellison, '37, as vice-president, Ellen Craft, '38, as secretary, and Charles Harms, '38, as treasurer. The new organization is known as the Christian Association.

The purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association, as expressed by the National Y. W. C. A., is "to realize a full and creative life." To accomplish this ideal on the Bates campus, this society has made a definite effort to establish a finer understanding between town and dormitory girls; to interest girls in Y. W. committee and welfare work; to provide and supervise inspirational lectures and group discussions for the co-ed student body; and to influence through Christian means the lives of all girls who attend Bates.

This spring the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet as a distinct organ gave place to the creation of what is hoped will be a stronger unit, more suited to the needs of the Bates student body.

This newly formed organization, namely the Bates Christian Association, takes the place of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. The initial officers elected are President, William Metz, '37; Vice-President, Ruth Jellison, '37; Secretary, Ellen Craft, '38; Treasurer, Charles Harms, '38. These officers assumed responsibility after the annual spring retreat and active work for the coming year was planned.

Council on Religion

The Council on Religion is the executive religious body on campus. It is composed of seven members including two faculty advisers, two representatives from the student body, and the presidents of Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and Christian Service Club. It is the correlating force in all campus activities of a religious nature, attempting to discover and satisfy the needs of the student in this field. The Council, in and by itself, sponsors several Vesper Services during the year.

With the change next year from the Y. M. C. A.–Y. W. C. A. organization to the one Christian Association, the duties of the Council will be somewhat limited. The group will continue, however, for the purpose of interpreting the reactions of students to the religious program, and to adjust the work to meet the greatest needs.

Those elected from the student body for the coming year are Elizabeth Stevens, '37, and Edward Howard, '38. The president of the Christian Service Club, George Spencer, '37, and the president and vice-president of the Christian Association, William Metz, '37, and Ruth Jellison, '37, complete the student members of the Council.

Christian Service Club

The Christian Service Club is composed of students who are actively interested in religious work. Several times during the year enjoyable meetings have been held at the homes of faculty members and friends.

In the fall the club sponsored a week-end conference at Monmouth for the Student Volunteer groups of the Maine colleges. A large group of students attended. The chief topic of discussion was the coming Quadrennial Convention of the Student Volunteers. This convention, attended by students from all over the United States and presenting speakers of world fame, was held in December in Indianapolis. Fifteen delegates were sent from Bates. Since then, they have made many speeches to college and town groups concerning their experiences.

The club programs during the year consisted of discussions and speakers. Among the latter are Mr. Hirasawa, a Bates exchange student from Tokio, Japan; Dr. and Mrs. Libbey, former missionaries to China; and Mr. Fowler, who spoke at the United Baptist Church on the Co-operative Movement.

The officers for the coming year are: President, George Spencer, '37; Vice-President, Ruth Bowditch, '38; Secretary, Ruth Robinson, '37; Treasurer, Valentine Wilson, '38.

Bates Outing Club

To fulfill its main purpose, that of being an organization which brings the men and women of college into an outdoor program of non-technical and non-specialized activity, the Bates Outing Club this past year sponsored a program more varied than ever before and which was made use of by a greater number of students than in the past.

Even before the college year had got under way, two parties of men had blazed and cut a side trail, leading off the Appalachian Trail, to the summit of "C" Bluff near Andover, Maine. This is now a B. O. C. Trail and will be maintained by the Club.

On two trips to Sabattus Cabin during the Fall, over fifty students and faculty went each time, and on the trip to Mount Speck (4,000 ft.) sixty-eight made the climb. This was the largest mountain climbing group ever to leave Bates, and it was the largest organized group ever to ascend this mountain. There was also a trip to Tumbledown Mountain.

Then with the coming of snow, Winter Sports received greater support than ever with the equipment being in constant use, and many students availing themselves of the opportunity to buy equipment for their personal use through the organization. The four day Winter Carnival climaxed the outdoor Winter season with a much more varied and enlarged program as it was held on no-class days, February 6, 7, 8, 9. For innovations, the Open-House and Dinner Dance at Chase Hall proved popular, and the Field Day at Pole Hill was a mecca for nearly two hundred students. To Priscilla Walker, '36, was given the honor of reigning as Queen over the affair. The skating rink was in constant use, a second All-College Skate attracted many, and Bates' first Snow Train—a trolley to Sabattus—should prove to be the first of many skiing parties that may be held on Sabattus Mountain with its gentle or steep slopes and the warm cabin nearby.

In addition, the Club has sponsored three illustrated lectures: Frau Dyhrenfurth, holder of the women's altitude climbing record; Otto Schneibs, Winter Sports Coach of Dartmouth; and Myron H. Avery, Chairman of the Appalachian Trail, a portion of which in Maine will probably be given over to Bates for maintenance in the near future. Also, throughout the year there have been open-houses at both Cabins that have been well attended, and during Carnival over two hundred trekked out to Thorncrag in a blinding snowstorm for that Open-House which brought an end to this year's Carnival.

This Fall another trip was made to Sabattus, there was a mountain climb over Saddleback (Rangeley), and the annual Memorial Day Cruise on Casco Bay has been planned. There will also be the usual canoe trips for men and for women, while plans are being made to conduct an All-Maine College canoe trip on the Belgrades.

Lambda Alpha

The Lambda Alpha is an organization of those girls who live in Lewiston and Auburn. The ultimate aim of the society is to bring its members closer together and into more direct contact with those girls living in the dormitories. A center is provided on campus where the town co-eds may gather for study and recreation.

This year the girls who belonged to the organization have made a special effort to make the Lambda Alpha a social club. Under the able leadership of the president, Adele Testa, and with the valuable aid of Miss Mabel Eaton, faculty adviser, the club has progressed remarkably in its efforts to bring together the "town girls" of the different classes. This has been accomplished by monthly meetings, outings, cabin parties, and the annual fall Tea Dance.

No more able leaders can be found than the officers for next year: President, Augusta Ginther, '37; Vice-President, Mary Chase, '38; Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth Allen, '39.

The primary purpose of Spofford Club is to promote the literary interests of the college and to encourage undergraduate work in letters for those students with creative or critical ability. Under the guidance of Roger Fredland, Spofford Club has enjoyed a productive year. Priscilla Heath, as chairman of the program committee, has led the club in discussions of all phases of literature through the media of drama, fiction, poetry, history, and biography.

Several meetings were held in the homes of professors of the English department as a means of making more congenial relationships between faculty and students.

The feature of the year was an all-college lecture by Louis Untermeyer, sponsored by Spofford Club with the co-operation of Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.

Phil-Hellenic Club

The Phil-Hellenic Club, under the competent leadership of Sumner Libbey, and with the able co-operation of both Professor and Mrs. George M. Chase, has this year furthered its purpose of promoting interest in Greek literature and life. A varied and interesting program included a lecture on Greek Drama by Mr. McGee, a talk by George Scouffas on Greek customs in matrimony, and a mandolin trio playing Greek music.

One of the high lights of the club's activities was the Christmas party at the home of Professor Chase, at which the competitions of the Olympic games were re-enacted amid much hilarity, keen rivalry existing between "Athens" and "Sparta." The annual joint meeting with the Ahepa Club of Lewiston, which has become an enjoyable tradition with the Phil-Hellenic Club, was held at Chase Hall.

At the final meeting, a symposium at Fiske Dining Hall on April 28th, retiring officers yielded their places to, and welcomed as incoming officers: President, George Scouffas, '37; Vice-President, Priscilla Warren, '37; Secretary-Treasurer, Marjorie Lovett, '38.

Through the generous help of Professor Knapp, Sodalitas Latina has tried, during the past year, to carry out its purpose—that of aiding prospective Latin teachers by means of discussions and reports. In December, a dinner party was held for Professor and Mrs. Knapp in honor of Professor Knapp's birthday. In February, the club enjoyed a most delightful meeting at the home of Professor and Mrs. Knapp.

Membership in this club is made up almost entirely of Seniors who major in Latin or who have a very definite interest in the field.

La Petite Académie

La Petite Académie aims to promote an interest in French life and literature, and with this in view, has been particularly happy to welcome Mlle. Anne-Marie Diebold, an exchange student from Nancy, France, who contributed much to the regular monthly meetings.

Among the outstanding programs this year were Professor Blanche Gilbert's discussion of the history of La Marseillaise, French national anthem, and an address by Miss Diebold on the French educational system. In December, an open meeting was held in the form of the annual Christmas sing, conducted by Mr. Seward. Other features included a cabin party and an evening of French music and games.

Membership in this club is limited to those students who show keen interest and marked ability in the field of French literature. Those elected to office for the coming year are: President, Muriel Tomlinson, '37; Vice-President, Elizabeth Stevens, '37; Secretary, Geneva Kirk, '37; Treasurer, Edward Harvey, '37.

Phi Sigma Iota, a national honorary society, was founded with the objective of rewarding and stimulating interest and excellence in the field of Romance Languages. The Kappa chapter was installed at Bates College in 1928 with this purpose in view.

The society met once a month to discuss "The Life and Works of George Sand," the topic of study for the year. At each meeting some of the club members gave interesting reports on various phases of the subject.

Officers for next year are: President, Mr. Robert D. Seward; Vice-President, Professor Blanche T. Gilbert; Secretary and Treasurer not yet elected.

Der Deutsche Verein

Der Deutsche Verein was founded in 1906, under the direction of Dr. Leonard, in order to present an opportunity for its members to become acquainted with German life and customs. Membership is limited usually to students in the two upper classes who show interest and ability in the study of German.

Initiation this year took place at a Hallowe'en party at Thorncrag Cabin. The regular programs for the monthly meetings were composed of the study of German music and literature, lectures on German activities in dirigible and glider building, and comments on the Olympic Games in Germany. The club also held its annual Christmas party in the Locker Building.

Politics Club

The Politics Club, composed of high-ranking majors in Sociology, Economics, History, and Government, was formed to promote interest in international relations and world affairs. Each year the club sends delegates to conferences concerned with world problems. One of the important features this year was the program presented in the form of a model league of nations, at which various members of the club represented certain countries. The topic of discussion was Hitler's dramatic occupation of the Rhineland.

At the recent all-college elections the following students were chosen as the new officers of the organization: President, Robert York; Vice-President, Harriet Durkee; Secretary, Jeannette Walker; Treasurer, Everett Kennedy.

The society was unusually successful this year in the diversity of programs presented. Consistent with the ideals of the society to foster an active interest in all fields of science, the various sciences of Physics, Geology, Biology, Psychology, Mathematics and Medicine were represented by programs presented by either faculty or undergraduate men.

Dr. W. T. Bovie, an outstanding bio-physicist in this country, gave one of the notable lectures of the year; also notable was that of Dr. Arthur Haasa, noted professor of physics at the University of Vienna, who presented a paper on the evolution of modern physics. These lectures by leading men of science together with the interesting faculty and student programs have served to increase the scope and significance of the ideals of this society. The new officers of the organization are: President, William Spear; Secretary-Treasurer, Bernard Marcus; Chairman of Program Committee, Richard Loomis.

Ramsdell Scientific Society

The purpose of the Ramsdell Scientific Society is to stimulate interest in science among the women of the college and to keep the members informed on the modern discoveries and works along scientific lines.

This year the club voted to have mainly outside speakers. Monthly business meetings have been followed by a variety of topics: Mathematics—a talk by Professor Ramsdell on "Mathematics and Religion"; Surveying—demonstrations of some surveying instruments and their use; Laboratory work—Miss McGay, head technician at the Central Maine General Hospital; Astronomy—a speech by Dr. Whitehouse on "Nebulae"; Philosophy—a talk by Dr. Peter Bertocci on "The Science of Philosophy"; Bio-Physics—an open meeting at which Dr. Bovie of Waterville lectured. In addition the club has enjoyed many gatherings of a social nature.

The October and April initiations were in charge of Augusta Ginther, '37. New officers in Ramsdell Scientific are: President, Augusta Ginther, '37; Secretary-Treasurer, Phyllis Sanders, '37.

Camera Club

The members of the Bates Camera Club are those who are interested in photography either as a hobby or as a profession.

The club is one of the newest organizations on campus and is rapidly becoming very popular with the student body. Meetings are held twice a month on Friday evenings, and consist of lectures and reports on the many phases of photography given by members or professional men. This year the program has been extended and varied, many new features being added. In December, an exhibition of pictures from the Colby College Camera Club were shown. Many of the club members contributed pictures to the Junior Chamber of Commerce Hobby Show held in the armory early in May. One of the most interesting features on the club's program for the year was a Sun-Journal newspaper exhibit of campus pictures taken by members of the club.

The additional opportunity of using the dark rooms for the developing of their own pictures is given to those members interested in this phase of the work.

Officers for next year are President, Richard Fullerton, '37; Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth MacKenzie, '37.

Varsity Club Follies

This year the Varsity Club gave birth to a problem child. Coach Morey beneficently took the orphan in hand, led him through the Social Functions Nursery, and guided him through a series of unpromising rehearsals. Finally, on the evenings of March 26 and 27, a wondering student body and a questioning faculty filled the Little Theatre to welcome the bouncing brain child into the ranks of the mature campus organizations. Thus the Varsity Club Follies was born, brung up, and baptized.

Notable among the vaudeville actors were Edward Curtin, '37; William Dunlevy, '37; and Leslie Hutchinson, '36, in professorial imitations; Edward Wellman, '36, and Bernard Marcus, '37, in a dramatic re-enactment of the state series; and William Spear, '37, dancer and magician. "A Successful Calamity," starring Robert Saunders, '36, Marion Welsch, '38, and Edward Curtin, '37, is deserving of mention. Perkins' Potato Patchers, Stan Sherman, '36, Robert Fish, '36, Nils Lennartson, '36, and John Garrity, '37, received hearty applause from the enthusiastic audience.

The Bobcats took an active part in the entertainment, furnishing music that was "sweet as well as lowdown." The success of the performance as a whole was due wholly to Coach Morey's skillful hand as producer and director. He was assisted by Frank Manning, '36, and Clark Noyes, '37.

The 1935 Garnet eleven, probably the strongest Bates eleven in recent years, played through a terrific eight-game schedule, including games with three of the four outstanding major teams in the East, and finally emerged with three wins, one tie, and four losses. Depleted athletic coffers forced Bates to include three major teams, New York University, Dartmouth, and Holy Cross on her 1935 schedule, and unfortunately these three teams had their most powerful teams in years. Holy Cross was one of the two undefeated teams in the East. Thus the plucky Bates Gridsters this year faced the best that there was in the ranks of inter-collegiate football teams. It was but natural, then, that they should fall by heavy scores before these tremendous odds.

The 1935 Bates stalwarts, nevertheless, did achieve an enviable record as they piled up large scores against Arnold and Maine, as they coasted to a tie in the B. U. game, and as they climaxed the state series by decisively defeating Colby. Easily clinching second place in the state series, Bates fielded a team with a truly tricky running attack, an aerial offense that quite consistently clicked, and a strong defense. In the line Taylor, Stoddard, Preston, and Wellman were outstanding throughout the season, while backs Keller, Marcus, Morin and Curtin were continual threats to opponent goal lines.

BATES 31 ARNOLD 0

September 28

Although limited to "old-time" plays and mighty few of them, the Garnet team tore Arnold to shreds, scoring five touchdowns and converting once, for 31 points, while four complete teams were being used. Curtin and Keller broke away in the first quarter for 25-and 15-yard runs to bring the ball to the Arnold 10-yard stripe, but Arnold held for downs. Coach Morey sent in a fresh team and Janenda's punt was blocked and recovered by Bates on the Arnold 3-yard line. Healey scored on the next play and Marcus carried for the point.

Midway in the second quarter Bates marched for another touchdown with Curtin skirting the Arnold right end for the score. The third score again came in the third period to climax the brilliant running of the same light-weight Garnet backs, Keller and Curtin, with Keller finally sweeping the end for the third touchdown.

Morin, clever Bates quarterback, surprise kicked toward the end of the period, forcing Janenda to punt from his 3-yard line. Gillis returned the punt to the Arnold 15-yard line. Two plays later Hutchinson carried through center for another score. The final touchdown came in the fourth period when Gillis plunged over the final marker from the 1-yard line after a sustained Bates march. Stoddard, Wellman, and Cooke played fine defensive football and stood out in the line.

BATES 7 NEW YORK UNIVERSITY 34

October 5

Playing the first of its three major opponents, a stubborn Bates team thrilled 10,000 spectators by outfighting the Violet from start to finish and forcing the metropolitan team to use everything it had. Late in the first quarter with the teams battling on even terms, Coach Morey sent in an entirely new team. A minute later Barney Marcus broke away through his own left tackle, stepped away from two N. Y. U. backs, and as Max Eaton cleaned out the safety man, pounded his way to the first touchdown of the day. He then cracked the Violet forward wall for two yards and the extra point.

Coach Stevens, formerly of Yale and probably remembering the 0–0 moral victory that a Morey coached team had won four years before, kept his strongest team on the field and told them to "shoot the works." Siegal scored the first N. Y. U. touchdown and Smith scored another on a 44-yard run. As the half ended, Bates was on the N. Y. U. 16-yard line after a beautiful running exhibition by Keller and passes to Wellman and Cooke.

In the second half of the game N. Y. U. was able to score once on a sustained march and once on an aerial assault. The final touchdown was the direct result of a Bates fumble. Wellman and Cooke at the Bates ends were outstanding while Marcus, Keller, and Curtin turned in some fine running in the backfield.

BATES 7 DARTMOUTH 59

October 12

Dartmouth, presenting a hard-charging line and sets of fast, hard-running backs, rolled up a large score against a gamely fighting Bobcat outfit that was experiencing somewhat of a letdown after the high-pitched battle of the previous week. Fifteen-minute periods, too long for Bates in view of limited reserve power, proved a factor in the large score.

The Bates team, now and again, showed flashes of brilliancy, with occasional good blocking by the line, but the Dartmouth power was too great. The Bates score came in the final period after a Morin to Reed pass had put the Bobcats in a scoring position. Hutchinson threw another pass to King who stepped across the goal line unmolested. Hutchinson then converted the point with a place kick.

Frost, Wellman, Cooke, Robinson, and Keller shone for Bates, while Kierman, King, Conti, Ray and Joe Handrahan were the Dartmouth highlights.

BATES 6 BOSTON UNIVERSITY 6

October 19

Bruised and battered after an excursion into big-time football, the Garnet forces rallied against Boston University, and despite the absence of seven regulars, outplayed their heavier rivals by coming from behind to tie the Bostonians. Early in the game, with little Harry Keller as the sparkplug, the Bobcats put on a sustained march that ended on the Boston University 5-yard marker when the B. U. defense stiffened and momentarily stopped the smoothly functioning Moreymen.

It was in the second period, however, that Frank Hughes, B. U. left end, took a Terrier pass in the end zone to put the Hanleymen in the lead. McNamara's attempted drop-kick was wide, and the half ended with B. U. out in front 6–0.

Once the mighty atom didn't get away. Keller in Maine game

In the final period, the Bates offensive swung into action again, with Keller lugging the leather seven out of ten of the Bobcat rushes. On an exchange of punts, the Bobcats gained possession of the ball on Boston University's 24-yard line Hutchinson tossed a neat pass to the rangy Verdelle Clark who carried to the 5-yard stripe. Three line bucks brought the ball to the 1-yard marker, and then "Cotton" Hutchinson plowed his way around B. U.'s end to tie up the game. The try for the point failed and a few minutes later the game ended with the score deadlocked at 6–6. McNamara scintillated for the Terriers, while Keller thrilled the crowd with his flashy running for Bates. Gautier, Preston, Stoddard, and Pickering played smashing games in the Bates line.

BATES 26 MAINE 7

October 26

Rising to new heights and playing a brand of football superior to any shown by a Bates team in years, the Garnet eleven outplayed Maine in every department of the game and ran up a score of 26–7 before a capacity crowd of 5,000 excited football fans, thrilled by a startling Bates offensive. A hard-charging Bates line opened wide holes in the Maine forward wall enabling Curtin, Marcus, Keller, and Frost to gain ground almost at will.

Despite the fact that Bates was in control of the situation throughout the first half, it was not until late in the second canto that Curtin, with a sparkling 25-yard run, placed the ball on the Maine 5-yard line. Marcus carried over for the touchdown and Wellman kicked the point.

In the fourth chapter, Wellman crashed through a group of Maine blockers and neatly intercepted a Maine lateral pass which he carried 60 yards unmolested for another touchdown. The final score came after a sustained march, with the line opening up tremendous holes in the blue frontier. Marcus finally took the leather over to place Bates on the long end of a 26–7 score. Both Curtin and Reed received broken ankles in this game, thus weakening the Garnet forces for their coming game with Bowdoin.

BATES 0 BOWDOIN 14

November 2

The Bobcat followers, who descended on Brunswick with state championship visions, saw their title hopes fade into nothing as their team went down to a 14–0 defeat at the hands of a determined Bowdoin eleven. Experiencing a terrific letdown after their flashy exhibition of the week before, the Garnet warriors met a Polar Bear that would not be denied. Starting on their own 35-yard line after the kick-off, the Bowdoin machine took just four plays to score its first touchdown. Frye carried through center for 15 yards, a Sawyer to Soule forward pass netted 20 more; Frye passed to right-end Manter for 25 more; and then Frye carried on a wide end sweep to produce the score. Sawyer kicked the extra point.

Bates seemed to be paralyzed by this daring thrust, and could not get its offense functioning. Only a stubborn defense by the Bobcats prevented the victors from scoring more than once in the first half. McCluskey and Preston by their excellent defensive work stopped many Bowdoin runners before they could shake loose for more damage.

The second Bowdoin touchdown came in the third period as a result of another pass, Sawyer to Johnson, and again Sawyer kicked the point. In the final minutes Bates made a desperate drive, but the smoothly functioning Bowdoin line smothered every Garnet onslaught. The Bates machine never got under way and the final whistle found Bowdoin perched on the top of the Maine football heap with a 14–0 win. Wellman was outstanding defensively for Bates, while Manter, Sawyer, and Frye were the Bowdoin stars.

BATES 6 COLBY 0

November 11

The scrappy Bobcat team, smarting under the defeat by Bowdoin, roared to full strength on the mud of Seaverns Field, Waterville, to exhibit the best football of the state series, smashing down the strong Colby eleven 6–0, and taking the runner-up position in the series. A forward pass spiraled by Quarterback Morin as he drew back from would-be Mule tacklers on his own 45-yard line, just after the start of the third period, was gathered in by Frost on the Colby 25, who, with Captain Wellman as an interferer, cut to his left and crossed the goal line for the only score of the afternoon.

Coach Morey's carefully planned defense combined with heady playing by the Garnet Gridmen kept the loose-hipped, fast-stepping Tom Yadwinski well within the limits of the mule corral. Seldom did he get by the line of scrimmage. A pass from Manning to Wellman early in the game gave Bates an opportunity to score, but the stubborn Colby line stiffened to thwart the attempt. Colby nearly scored in the final minute when, in the gathering shadows of dusk, Bates fumbled on the Garnet 10-yard stripe. An attempted pass, however, was grounded, and the game ended with the Bobcats on top.

Defensively the Bates line was strong and fast, hitting hard and tackling with sudden-death security. McCluskey and Marcus were outstanding defensively in the backfield. On the offense, Hutchinson and Morin, brilliant Sophomores, turned in fine games.

BATES 0 HOLY CROSS 79

November 16

Playing a post-season game with the second ranking major eleven in the East and on the same week as the Colby game, a weakened Bates Bobcat met the Crusader Juggernaut and went down to a crushing defeat. It was simply a case of Holy Cross being too big and too powerful for the tired Garnet team. Their line opened up terrific holes, while their backs ran wild; besides lacking reserve power, the Garnet players showed the effects of their hard schedule and the mental letdown that came with the completion of the state series.

Dick Perkins was the only Bates man to be injured, sustaining a very painful sprained ankle in the final period, but the entire squad was worn out after a terrific battle against insurmountable odds.

A great amount of student criticism of playing a post-season game for any reason, financial or otherwise, after a hard schedule had a great influence, and the faculty committee on athletics decided to drop the N. Y. U. game for the fall of 1936 and refused a post-season game with Harvard in 1937.

Freshman Football

Although boasting several fine individual performers, the Freshman grid squad was decidedly lacking in weight, experience, and talent. Coach Spinks had hardly started getting a team together when he was forced off the practice field with a fractured ankle. Joe Murphy, starting from scratch, found himself short of time in shaping up a strong team. Bridgton Academy invaded Garcelon Field and had little difficulty in carrying off a three-touchdown victory, 20–0.

The squad improved considerably in the next two weeks and, showing noticeably better blocking, tackling, and teamwork battled M. C. I. on even terms on Garcelon Field. An intercepted pass by Rowe of the visitors which culminated in a score in the closing minutes lost the game for the yearlings, 6–0.

The major function of the squad, however, was to run opponents' plays against the varsity, to stand in formation against plays, and to scrimmage against the Morey men. Team power was undoubtedly retarded somewhat by such a policy and the team, judged by the material it will send up to the '36 varsity, was generally rated as good.

Outstanding men were: Reid, fine running back, Canavan, scrappy back and promising picker; Roy Briggs, quarterback; Crosby, good passer and punter; Austin Briggs, promising fullback; Clough, rugged center; Kimnack and Akers, light but scrappy tackles, and Walker Briggs, end.

Numerals were awarded to:

Robert Akers	Fred Clough	Paul McCluskey	Herbert Reiner
Austin Briggs	William Crosby	Oran Moser	John Vaka
Roy Briggs	Harold Cushman, Jr.	Rodger Nichols	Arthur Wilder
Walker Briggs	Robert Kimnack	Chester Parker	Dwight Wood
Patrick Canavan	Robert Kinney	James Reid

Webber, Fisher, Chamberlain, Burnap, Thompson
Stetson, Tubbs, Danielson, Hammond

Beginning the season with a small squad, but with a nucleus of veterans in Captain Tubbs, Danielson, Stetson, Hammond, Coach Thompson drilled his hill and dalers for their opening meet with Colby which the Garnet runners won handily by virtue of a third-place tie by Tubbs, Stetson, Hammond, Danielson, and Burnap. Veysey and Deverber led the pack home as was expected, but the five's third-place tie clinched the meet for Bates 25–34.

On the following Saturday the Bates team journeyed to Boston and met the Northeastern Cross Country men on the tricky Franklin Field course. The trip to Boston in the morning apparently took its toll of the Bates runners, for their performances in this meet were much below the caliber of those of the week before. Lengel, Johnson, and Perry of Northeastern took the first three places. Stetson took fourth place, while Tubbs was fifth, followed by Burnap and Hammond, all of Bates. Danielson followed Grant of Northeastern, to complete the scoring for the Garnet, the final score being 24–31 with Northeastern the winner.

An under-rated Maine team came to Lewiston for the State Meet and carried away the title with a low score of 30 points. Bates was second with 45, and Colby trailed with 55. Veysey, sensational Colby runner, won easily, leading Maine's Hunnewell down the home stretch. Deverber took third place, while Waddington and Morton, two Maine men, took the next two places. Stetson, Tubbs, Hammond, finished in that order. Danielson of Bates took eleventh place after a battle with Corbett of Maine. Other Bates runners were scattered in the remaining places.

The New England meet at Franklin Park in Boston proved disappointing to the Garnet runners. Maine won first honors, while Bates emerged in tenth position. Captain Paul Tubbs was the first Bates man to finish, winding up in 30th position. Stetson was 36th, Danielson 46th, Hammond 54th and Burnap 60th in this large field of 85 men.

Cross-country letters were awarded to Captain Tubbs, '36; Stetson, '36; Hammond, '36; Danielson, '37; and the manager, Webber, '36. Danielson was chosen captain for the coming year. Other members of the team were Fisher, '38; Chamberlain, '37; Burnap, '38; and Rogers, '37.

Freshman Cross Country

An undefeated season distinguished this year's Freshman cross-country team and gave promise of bolstering up next year's varsity outfit. Dana Wallace amazed and delighted Bates track fans by winning every race in which he participated last fall. Numbered among his victories was one over Dixon, Bridgton's colored flash, who equalled the prep school indoor quarter-mile record.

The list of Freshman victories includes a 25–32 victory over Bridgton Academy, 15–51 over Lisbon, 18–43 over Mechanics Falls, and a decisive victory over Jay High School. The only setback of the year was after the close of the regular season when the yearlings met a team of experienced Seniors and lost 41–40.

Bridges, a late reporter for the team, proved to be another outstanding performer, following Wallace to the tape in most of the races. Jerard, DuWors, and Lythcott are the other Freshman runners who show most promise.

Numerals were awarded to Braddicks, Bridges, DuWors, Jerard, Lythcott, Wallace, and Whiston.

Winter Sports

Thirty men reported for winter sports to Coach Win Durgin last winter to comprise the largest squad in several years. The Outing Club equipment was increased and was in constant use while a great deal of new equipment was purchased individually.

The slopes of Mount David and the jump were in good condition, while some use was made of the new ski trail on Sabattus Mountain. The only competition was against the local Skovstiers at carnival time, although Morin, F. Bailey, and Goodwin with Coach Durgin acted as officials and gave exhibitions at the second annual Bath Carnival. Tom Reiner, '39, Fred Bailey, '38, George Morin, '37, and Norm Taylor, '37, were outstanding. Other members of the squad were: Edward Fishman, '38; Arthur Helsher, '38; Ralph Goodwin, '38; Robert Harper, '37; Carl Amrein, '38; James Foster, '38; Charles Alexander, '38; Val Wilson, '38; Elliot Phipps, '39; John Hayne, '39; Sherwood Ricker, '39; Donald Curtis, '39; James Ryan, '37; Charles Lockwood, '39; Robert Morris, '39; Joe Fisher, '39; Bruce Meserve, '39; Ken Snow, '39; Charles Harms, '38; Harold Bailey, '36; and Dwight Wood, '39.

INTERCLASS CHAMPIONS

Basketball

Without a varsity basketball team to follow through the winter season the student body loyally supported Coach Buck Spinks' interclass league. The popular mentor aided the class quintets greatly and personally coached the Freshman representatives who emerged victorious over the other teams in the league. The teams played a total of nine games, each club meeting the others three times. The competition was keen and the brand of basketball highly commendable.

Due not a little to the fact that Bates is to enter into intercollegiate competition next season with a Freshman team, interest was unusually high and the games were especially spectacular.

Canavan and Woodbury, star forwards, paced the yearling quintet to victory over the veteran Senior club which finished the year in second place. The Sophomores, previous champions, ended in third position while the never-victorious Juniors trailed the pack. It is planned to have a Bates varsity team on the floor the year after next and if this winter's Freshman group is any criterion the team should hang up an enviable record. An all-team was selected at the close of the season which named Nick Pellicane, '37, and Johnny Woodbury, '39, at the forward positions, Verdelle Clark, '36, at center, Bob Frost, '38, and Bill Crosby, '39, at guard. Other members of the champion Freshman team were: Jim Reid, Bob Malone, Art Wilder, Joe Canavan, Bob Kimnack, Leonard Jobrack, Alec Williamson, Don Webster, and Gus Clough.

Tennis

The season of 1935 was a successful one for the Varsity Tennis team. Under the coaching of Howell Lewis and led by Captain Charles Paige the team won four of their five matches and were runners-up for the State Championship. The team defeated Maine 5–4, 5–4; Colby 6–3, 6–3; and lost to Bowdoin 4–5. In the state tournament, Reed reached the semi-final round in the singles, while in the doubles Carter and Buzzell reached the semi-finals.

The season was featured by the fine playing of two Freshmen, Burt Reed and Don Casterline. Letters were awarded to Captain Charles Paige, '35; Arnold Kenseth, '37; James Carter, '36; Burt Reed, '38; Donald Casterline, '38; Lewis Revey, '36; Howard Buzzell, '36; and Manager Harold Bailey, '36.

Prospects for the 1936 season are brighter than usual with the return of six lettermen. Milton Nixon, ex-Hebron and Portland captain, shows excellent promise as does Norman Dankner, '37. With these men the team won its first match from Maine 5–4. Augustus Buschman is the newly appointed coach and Howie Buzzell, the captain.

The team: Courtney Burnap, '38; Emerson Case, '36; Byron Catlin, '38; Verdelle Clark, '36; Charles Cooke, '38; Eugene Connell, '37; Arthur Danielson, '37; George Giovannazzi, '38; Winston Keck, '38; Harry Keller, '36; Omar King, '38; Anton Kishon, '37; Louis Meagher, '36; Archie Peabody, '36; William Luukko, '38; Walter Rodgers, '37; Bob Saunders, '36; William Sceckts, '38; Damon Stetson, '36; Paul Tubbs, '36.

The track team was somewhat weakened this year by the loss of the nationally known weight thrower, Larry Johnson, who did not return in the fall, and by the loss of Bucky Gore, smooth-striding half-miler who was forced to give up his studies after his father's death. Nevertheless, the Keller-captained team is destined to be remembered as one of the strongest track teams in the history of the college.

In the K. of C. meet in Boston on January 25 the mile relay team of Danielson, Howard, Saunders, and Luukko was beaten by both Amherst and Northeastern but Keller showed up well in the dash, gaining the final along with the fastest sprinters in the East but not placing. Keck placed fourth for Bates in the 300 in his first race on the boards. Two weeks later at the B. A. A. Meet the same relay team showed a decided improvement to decisively defeat Northeastern and Middlebury in 3.31$\frac{2}{5}$ seconds. Keller raced even in his trial with Eddie Sullivan, New York Curb Exchange star who twice beat Peacock during the indoor season, but was shut out in his semi-final. However, he numbered among his victims Soule of Bowdoin, Huff of Maine, Krosney of N. Y. U., Hicks of B. U. and Woolford, Alpha A. C., the defending champion.

Indoors the team swept over Colby, Maine, and Northeastern in succession. Especially significant in the two later triumphs was the fact that these two teams emerged from the New Englands last year in the top positions, while Bates was third, less than a point behind.

Kishon's continued supremacy in the weight events, Keller's stirring exhibitions in the dashes and broad jump, Meagher's high soaring vaults, gritty running by Saunders and Tubbs, and consistently good performances by Keck, Cooke, Howard, Danielson, Luukko, Connell and Peabody—these men and their achievements formed the foundation for the invincible Garnet track aggregation. They were ably supported by a steady group of second and third place winners, including Clark, Stetson, Case, and Catlin.

On February 22 Kishon took three record-breaking firsts in the discus 152 feet 5$\frac{1}{2}$ inches, shot 45 feet 1$\frac{1}{2}$ inches and 35 pound weight 54 feet 1$\frac{1}{2}$ inches to carry away high scoring honors for the day as Bates decisively defeated Colby at Waterville. Captain Keller scored two firsts in the broad jump, with a 21 foot 7$\frac{3}{8}$ inch leap, and in the dash, and also tied for first with Keck in the 300. Colby gained but two first places, Fuller in the 45-yard high hurdles and Deverber in the 2-mile. Meagher and Cooke perfunctorily vaulted over 10 feet 6 inches in the pole vault and won the event with Colby's challenger unable to reach this height. Saunders ran an easy mile race to win handily from Deverber, and then he came back to follow Danielson to the tape in a nicely run 2:28$\frac{3}{5}$ thousand. The promising Sophomore, Howard, ran a strong 600 to win in the good time of 1:19$\frac{4}{5}$. Connell, a hard-working Junior, proved his worth by winning the high jump. Luukko gained a second in the high hurdles and a third in the broad jump. Peabody, one of the great Bates weightmen of all time, although overshadowed by his teammate, tossed the 35-pound weight right in behind Kishon's winning throw. Other place winners were Clark, who won a third in the discus; Tubbs, who ran a thrilling 2-mile to lose by a few yards to Deverber; and Stetson, who took thirds in the mile and 2-mile.

On March 7 the Maine Bear fell beneath the Garnet Spikes in a brilliant meet in the Field House. It was Tony Kishon day, for the stalwart Bates weightman not only won the I. C. 4-A championship in the hammer in New York, but also by a specially arranged honor system also competed in the dual meet. His winning distances in the shot, discus, and 35-pound weight, all made and recorded on the previous Saturday, gave Bates an early lead of 15 points. Captain Keller again continued his supremacy in the dash field, outjumped brilliant Johnny Gowell in the broad jump with a 22 foot $1\frac{3}{4}$ inch leap, and then tied Murray in the 300 in the excellent time of $34\frac{1}{5}$ seconds. Keck, fast-developing Sophomore, won a second in the 40-yard dash.

Danielson and Saunders again ran one, two in the 1000 in $2.23\frac{2}{5}$ seconds. Meagher rose to new heights as he successfully vaulted 12 feet 3 inches to set a new cage record. He barely missed at 12 feet 9 inches for a new dual meet record. Tubbs led all the way in the 2-mile and was closely followed by Stetson. Cooke's surprise second place in the shot was a pleasant addition to the Bates score. Saunders's second in the mile, Connell's third in the broad jump, the second and third of Luukko and Catlin in the hurdles, Howard's third in the 600 and tie for second in the 300, and Peabody's third in the 35-pound weight completed the Bates scoring.

BATES $66\frac{1}{2}$ NORTHEASTERN $44\frac{1}{2}$

At Lewiston

The team that steadily improved throughout the season reached its peak on March 14 and defeated a strong Northeastern team, outdoor New England Champions, $66\frac{1}{2}$ to $44\frac{1}{2}$. The biggest thrill of the afternoon came during the stirring 2-mile race between Art Johnson, Northeastern distance ace, and plucky Paul Tubbs, Bates cross-country captain, won by the Bates star in 10 minutes $1\frac{4}{5}$ seconds.

Kishon threw the 35-pound hammer to a new cage and meet record with a heave of 53 feet $11\frac{1}{2}$ inches, and he put the shot 45 feet $5\frac{7}{8}$ inches to add five more points to the Garnet score. Keller's 22 foot $4\frac{3}{4}$ inch broad jump set a new meet record and this, coupled with his dash victory, swelled the rising Bates score by ten. Saunders opened up on the last quarter of the mile run and defeated Art Johnson, in 4 minutes 36.2 seconds, while Stetson took the third position. Danielson won the 1000 in 2 minutes 24.6 seconds, with Saunders behind him. Keck and Howard, fast-stepping Bates Sophomores, tied for first in the 300-yard run in 34.2 seconds. Meagher won the pole vault at 12 feet 1.25 inches. Other Bates place winners were Peabody, a second in the 35-pound weight; Keck, a third in the 40-yard dash; Luukko, a third in the high hurdles and in the broad jump; Connell who tied for third in the high jump; and Cooke who took second in the pole vault.

BATES $81\frac{1}{3}$ BOSTON Y. M. C. A. $44\frac{2}{3}$

At Lewiston

The outdoor season opened on May 2 as the Garnet trackmen met and defeated the representatives of the Boston Y. M. C. A. by a score of $81\frac{1}{3}$ to $44\frac{2}{3}$. Captain Keller and Tony Kishon once again were the high point men as Kishon captured firsts in the hammer, discus, javelin, and shot-put and Keller in the broad jump and 100-yard dash. It was a big day for Captain Harry as he ran a ten second hundred equaling the field and college record in this event.

Kishon's discus throw of 148 feet 8 inches set a new field record. Howard ran a fine race to win the quarter mile in $52\frac{1}{5}$ seconds. Danielson easily won the half mile, and Tubbs breezed through a jaunty two mile to come home the winner as Dick Gould took third. Catlin cleared the high hurdles in good form to win the event and his varsity sweater. Keck continued his consistently fine performances in the dash events by taking a first in the 220 and a second to Captain Keller in the 100.

STATE MEET

May 9 at Orono

The Bates hopes for a state championship track team received a death blow on the morning of the trials when Captain Harry Keller injured a thigh muscle while qualifying for the afternoon's broad jump event. The injury proved so severe that the plucky captain was forced to withdraw from all participation. This unfortunate occurrence seemed but to foreshadow the many disappointing performances of the afternoon which found Maine winning the state title with 57 points, Bowdoin second with 44, Bates third with 26, and Colby fourth with 8.

Kishon, however, was the high scorer of the day as he took firsts in the hammer, shot-put, discus, and a second in the javelin for a total score of 18 points. Other Bates points were won by Peabody who took a third in the hammer, Clark who was second in the discus, Keck who took a third in the 100-yard dash, Howard with a third in the 440, Connell with a third in the javelin, and Meagher with a third in the pole vault.

Freshman Track

The Freshmen presented a well-balanced track team this year, winning six of their eight meets, losing twice to a strong Bridgton Academy team, but defeating South Portland High twice, Stephens High of Rumford twice, and a team of combined smaller high school men twice. One meet was run indoors and one outdoors with each opponent, all at Bates.

The outstanding performance of the year was Dana Wallace's 4 minute 35 second mile, which broke Wallie Viles' eight-year-old Freshman record by five seconds. Wallace remained undefeated in the mile both seasons. George Lythcott, colored flash, was a standout indoors in the 300- and 600-yard runs and outdoors in the 220 and 440. Dana Hull was the leading scorer in nearly every meet, collecting his points in the hurdles and high jump. Roy Briggs, promising weightman, was another heavy scorer. Elliot Phipps and John Woodbury in the dashes, Don Bridges in the middle distances, Tom Reiner and Gus Clough in the javelin, and Don Webster, co-holder of the Freshman high jump record of 5 feet 10½ inches, were dependable performers. Alec Williamson, outstanding hurdler and co-holder of the high jump record, was lost to the team through ineligibility, but showed definite varsity caliber.

Other members of the squad were: Ray Gove, Gilbert Woodward, Donald Williams, Albert Pierce, John Nash, Irving Friedman, Joe Canavan, George Scammon, Bob Braddicks, Oran Moser, Fred Downing, Dick DuWors, Jerry Gerad, Art Wilder, Trenor Goodell, and Lionel Whiston.

The 1935 Bates baseball team climaxed an otherwise disappointing season with three encouraging victories over Maine, Northeastern, and Bowdoin respectively. The loss of only four regulars—Gay, Semeli, Toomey, and Aldrich—by graduation and the auspicious wind-up of the season seemed to presage better success in 1936.

BATES 8 BOWDOIN 12

The 1936 season opened on April 20 with a 12–8 loss to the Bowdoin pastimers. The Garnet forces seemed hampered by their lack of outdoor work, and could not hold two four run leads that they built up early in the game. Darling did the twirling for Bates and proved invincible in the early innings but weakened as the game went on. Marcus and Bergeron led the hitting of the Bobcats, and Pappy Johnson, another Freshman, stepped into an outfield berth and proved himself an able batsman.

BATES 9 NORTHEASTERN 11

The annual Boston trip proved to be rather disastrous for Bates as the team suffered three defeats. Against Northeastern on April 23, Bates started off in a promising way by scoring three runs in the first inning, but the Boston contingent evened the count in the third. Bates appeared to have the game won, going into the eighth inning, but Meehan, husky first baseman, opened up an onslaught that brought the Northeastern score to eleven which was enough to defeat the Bobcats. Malone, Clark, and Darling did the pitching for Bates. Captain Callahan was hurt when he collided with Bennett on a forced play at second.

BATES 6 BOSTON UNIVERSITY 16

A strong Boston University nine met the Bates team on the following day and won by the disturbing score of 16–6. The Morey-men could not seem to click afield and could not overtake the early lead the University boys built up. One of the bright spots of the game was Bill Johnson's home run in the ninth inning which accounted for the final brace of runs for Bates. Atherton and Webster did the pitching.

BATES 2 NEW HAMPSHIRE 9

New Hampshire put forward a smooth fielding and hard-hitting ball club that was too much for Bates on April 25. Lefty Weir of N. H. U. displayed great form as he set down the Bobcats with only four hits and one walk in nine innings. Malone pitched good ball for Bates but was not able to hold the heavy stickers of the opposition at bay.

BATES 4 BOWDOIN 3

Finally breaking into the win column, Bates defeated Bowdoin 4–3 in a thrilling ten-inning game on May 5. Darling did some fine twirling for the Garnet and held the Black and White to eight hits. In the sixth inning, Marcus doubled and stole third, Bergeron walked, and Johnson reached first on a fielder's choice that retired Bergeron. Dunlevy walked to fill the bases. On a thrilling triple steal, Marcus stole home and started off the Bates scoring. The ninth inning found the score knotted at three all, but in the last of the tenth Pappy Johnson walloped a long hit into right center that went for a home run and gave Bates the game.

BATES 4 COLBY 6

Colby and Bates played a close game on May 8, but the superb pitching of Colby's ace, Hersey, kept the Bobcat batters well under control throughout the afternoon and the final score was 6–4. Bob Darling pitched well for Bates, but his teammates were unable to give him any lead with which to work. Barney Marcus was the Bates batting star, collecting two of the four hits made off the sensational Colby left-hander.

The remaining games on the schedule are:

May 13 Bowdoin at Lewiston
May 15 University of Maine at Lewiston
May 16 Colby at Lewiston
May 18 Bowdoin at Brunswick
May 20 University of Maine at Orono
May 27 Colby at Waterville

Old Grad

A lean ghost breaks through the line of scrimmage,
And glides ghost-like past a charging back;
A man in the stands sees his old young image
Heading once again the Garnet pack.
A man recalls another November
When another boy whipped down the field;
Old triumph is bitter-sweet to remember
When the band flares forth "Yield, foemen, yield."
. . . Point after touchdown. And an old grad stares
Into the past that his young ghost shares.

(From V. C. Follies by David B. Morey)

Oh, the day of days is here
And the Bobcat will appear.
Yes, the claws will fly, and the bears will die
On this day of victory.

For the Bobcat dotes on fighting,
And his courage is supreme.
And when it comes to smiting,
Bears and mules are all the same.

Oh, here's to the fighting Bobcat,
The Garnet mascot ever.
So here's three cheers for him who shares
The glory of the name of Bates.

During the year of 1935 and 1936, the Women's Athletic Association carried on successfully several new projects along with the usual schedule. As formerly, the Freshmen were greeted by the Sportland Tour in their first week at college. In succession, the Hare and Hound Chase, the High School Play Day, the Banquet, A. A. teas, Health Week and Spring House Party were run off smoothly. A new idea for spring was suggested from the joint meeting of members of the Bates, Colby and Maine Women's Athletic Association Boards. This idea was the featuring of five-mile hikes to attract greater interest in the great outdoors as well as to create healthier bodies. The attendance at these walks was surprisingly large, and for those who attended many new lovely spots were revealed. During mid-years, an interdormitory basketball tournament was arranged. Enthusiasm was high and still another new project ended in success.

The new Board is as follows: Kathryn Thomas, '37, President; Ida Miller, '38, Vice-President; Ruth Butler, '39, Secretary; Muriel Tomlinson, '37, Treasurer; Margaret Melcher, '37, Undergraduate Representative.

Coaches

One of the most successful departments of the W. A. A. is the system of Student Coaches for extra period sports. Certain girls are chosen because of their interest, ability, and knowledge of the sport. This project has proved very interesting both for the A. A. and for the students themselves who will be able to use this practical experience after graduation.

It is a great honor to receive the "B" sweater from the W. A. A., and nearly every girl looks forward to earning one from her first few weeks at school. The qualifications are high, and the reward is always well deserved. The presentation of the sweater is based on more than athletic ability alone. Sportsmanship, interest, scholarship average above 75, a "B" grade in posture, and by custom, membership in the Junior class have all become requisites. This is something to live up to, and so the owner of the white sweater with the garnet "B" may be justly proud of her possession.

Hockey

Hockey, the favorite sport of the Bates co-eds, drew the largest group of enthusiasts, and, by a well-managed schedule, the competition was kept keen and exciting. With unusual enthusiasm at practices, new talent was discovered, and with the upper-classmen, some fine teams were made. The interest was so high in the Senior class that they organized a team of their own to enter the competition. The usual schedule was played off. The class contest was won by the Garnets by two points. Then the Varsity team was chosen and the Garnets again emerged victorious by a score of 4–2. Two challenge games issued by the Senior players to any other group were arranged. The Seniors won the first game, but the wind was taken out of their sails when they lost the second game of the double-header to the tune of 4–1.

Volley Ball

The 1935 volley ball season was very successful, in both attendance and results. About sixty-five girls came out to at least part of the practices. The number was no doubt increased over that of last year due to the fact that there was no W. A. A. in baseball. The Seniors showed much interest and strengthened the teams greatly. Although the season was a short one, the games were begun early enough so that they could all be played off during the regular W. A. A. periods. After the class games, the Varsity teams were chosen. The Blacks won this final contest 36–30. It was a very exciting game, the teams were well matched and all of the participants displayed an unusually good brand of volley ball.

Speedball

Last spring speedball was substituted for soccer. This game, new to the Bates co-eds, was quickly accepted and immediately popular. About seventy girls reported for practice. Due to the rainy weather, no class or inter-class games were possible, so only the All-College Garnet and Black game was played. This was won by the Blacks by the score of 20–16. For the amount of practice held, a great deal of skill was developed. Drop-kicks, formerly the pride of the gridiron, were expertly performed by the co-ed along with other tricky plays. This season wound up the play activities for the year 1935–36.

Winter Sports

In spite of the zero temperatures, the thrills of skiing and pleasures of skating brought forth the co-ed lovers of the great outdoors. Practices were held each week so that when the season ended herring-boning, stemming, kick-turning and slaloming were skillfully executed. A closely contested Garnet and Black meet was expected to end up the season. However, because of the soft snow, the meet was not held.

Basketball

A. A. basketball practice attracted a large number of girls this year. Class teams were soon chosen and the usual series of games run off smoothly. With the interruption of mid-years, interest did not abate, and so inter-dormitory games were scheduled. Hacker House and Rand Hall were the finalists, but the former came out on top by a score of 26–20. The rest of the inter-class games were completed as the new semester began, and the Garnet and Black varsities picked. The first half of the big game looked like a walk away for the Garnets, for the score stood 18–8, but when the timekeeper's whistle blew to close the last quarter, the referee announced 25–24 in favor of the Blacks. Another successful A. A. season was closed.

Garnet and Black Tournament

On Thursday, March 19, 1936, the Department of Physical Education for Women presented the annual Garnet and Black tournament. This was an unusually successful meet. The introduction of the Garnet and Black Sports Review was cleverly done by Seniors, each representing the various sports presented by the W. A. A. The results of the competition were announced at the end by President Gray. The Garnets again for the third successive year had the honor of putting their numerals on the banner.

Last Chapel Hymn

From the chalice of the years
We've quenched the heart-thirst of our youth;
Drinking deep, bequieting fears
Accompanying searchers after truth.

Seasons change the lacquered leaves
The weather vane points out the wind;
Still the vine of ivy cleaves
To love the years may not rescind.

Spirit hovering like a cloud
Between the ivy and the heart;
Who with love our hearts endowed
Give us but that hope when we depart.

From the chalice of the years
We've quenched the heart-thirst of our youth;
Drinking deep, bequieting fears
Accompanying searchers after truth.

WHITCOMB MAKES AMAZING DISCOVERY AT COMMONS

Willard Whitcomb, well-known entymologist of the freshman class, solved a perplexing problem Monday. Fellow students, finding a small living object in their soup, conferred with Whitcomb, suggesting that it might be a "soup-bug." He, however, returned the compliment by assuring them it was a hum-bug. Later he correctly identified the specimen.

From Bond Perry's Florida debating trip diary:

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3—

"Carolina Moon, Keep Smiling" is our theme song as we head for Rock Hill, S. C. At the state line we hear that two farmers with three-foot beards and patched pants have been debating for 59 years as to whether Andrew Jackson was born in North or South Carolina. Jones invites them both to come to Bates while Norton gets lost in Charlotte. At Winthrop College 1,500 of the most beautiful girls south of Lewiston demonstrate their justly famous southern hospitality and we have the privilege of seeing all 1,500 assembled for lunch in one dining hall.

From Pepys:

. . . And now to the Pier; Saunders says that he Wood like to sk-Welsch someone, and why Bob? Glasier hasn't quite forgotten that wink of Dorsey Bros. singer yet . . . Fatty Garrity, the Paul Revere boy . . .

From Sport Shots:

Our talkative rival coach at Bowdoin made a startling announcement at the Bowdoin Lewiston-Auburn Alumni banquet at the DeWitt the other evening. "I came to Bowdoin to win games," he told the alumni. How nice that he has that understanding with the college just what his duties are supposed to be.

Editorial Story on the Same:

The ways of fate are mysterious and at times seemingly cruel. Yet we must convince ourselves that in the affairs beyond our control there must be a regulation of order which we must respect without censure.

Feature Story That Went Far:

With a sigh of released brakes, "The Gull," crack through-train from Boston to St. Johns, prepared to pull out of Lewiston Upper Station. At this precise moment (2:10 Monday morning, April 29) Bill Chilman and Eric Maurer, would-be hoboes, appeared from a dark corner of a tool shed, scrambled across sidings, and swung aboard the off-station side of the locomotive's tender.

We have often read about the mass migrations to the west during periods of depression. Today we see Alaska as an outlet for hundreds of discouraged farmers.

A Notice:

To Bates Undergraduates:

Through the medium of the "Student" the Student Council has informed the student body that certain regulations have been made and will be enforced. One of these pertains to the prohibition of smoking on certain areas on campus. Recently this regulation has been flagrantly and openly violated. We take this opportunity to serve notice upon the offenders that definite action will be taken if this practice continues.

An Editorial:

CLUBHOUSE OR CHAPEL?

Take any morning, any week of the school year. Make the time 8:40. Seven hundred students are walking, talking, letter-waving their way into the Bates College Chapel. Once seated the men and women make and break appointments over yards of pews. Assignments are called out in tones far from whispering. My love sends out a sheepish early-morning smile to my lady across the aisle, six rows down. Every third person finds something to say to his neighbor beside, back or in front of him. The hum of activity and busy life is as pronounced as in the home office of an efficient life insurance company. But what are those grandiloquent sounds which in rhythmical harmony fill the building? What are those sounds trying so determinedly yet unsuccessfully to fit into the scene? It is the devotional music as appropriate to the setting as "Pax Vobiscum" in "Broadway Melody" . . . Abolish the provision that is responsible for its ineffective state—compulsory attendance.

State Meet Report:

A well-balanced Maine track team walked off with the state track and field title last Saturday on Garcelon Field as they rolled up an impressive total of 52 points. Bowdoin finished strong to nose out Bates for second place, 37 2/3 to 34, while Colby trailed far behind with 11 1/3 points.

A Guest Editorial:

No member of the faculty or administration can for long ignore the contempt which he sees in the faces of those who are under him. Mass pressure by the student body under intelligent leaders, is the only method by which its stake in the issues at hand can receive any just consideration. So long as the student body remains as apathetic as it now seems to be, the administration will continue to disregard student feeling in such matters.

The Mayoralty Campaign:

The 1935 Bates Mayoralty contest will officially begin at 6:45 this evening when the quartet of illustrious candidates will make their opening campaign speeches before the voters of Bates College from the steps of Hathorn.

Bond Mendum Perry '35, debater and Omaha fan, Leno Lenzi '35, football star and Mussolini's pal, Louis Meagher '35, pole vaulter and gift to the ladies, and Willard Hall Whitcomb '38, entymologist and Chase Hall prancer—these are the modest candidates who have thrown their hats into the Bates political ring.

From Saunders' Sport Shots:

To all outward appearances the Athletic Department did a very efficient job in running off a fast meet but behind the scenes everything was not so smooth. Try running some time on a training meal of hash (commonly called red flannel hash), fried potatoes, and cocoanut cream pie. If you can hold that you're doing better than most of us.

Rebirth of Freshman Rules:

Bates College is being congratulated on a birth—the birth of a new tradition which takes the form of freshman rules and which features the reappearance of freshman hats on the campus. Last June, in the closing days of school, the Student Council, unknown to most of the student body, voted to adopt a set of freshman rules, which became applicable with the start of college this year.

Editorial to the Freshmen:

In every class that has passed through this college there have been a certain few isolated figures known in the easy speech as "fallen stars." They came to Bates with a certain amount of front or something and were immediately shunted into the limelight. . . . But then came the fall; swift, complete, irreparable usually . . . they have fallen because they have come to assume taints of superiority complex . . . You may be able to toss a forward pass forty yards but that doesn't make you one whit better a man than the student walking behind you on campus the next morning.

Their defeat was not inglorious but victory's wine is not quite theirs for stimulation. . . . If we are to believe the players and coach there was something amazing about the welcome which some one hundred and twenty-five students were at the station to give the returning football stalwarts . . .
